WANT BOARD TO PROBE FACTS IN ANNEXATION

Conewago Township supervisors have filed a "complaint by aggrieved party" by which they ask the Adams County court to appoint a "board of commissioners to study the facts in the proposed annexation by the borough of Hanover of 307.01 acres of Conewago Twp."

The petition filed by Atty. Ronald Hagerman alleges that the proposed annexation would cut several streets in half, isolate portions of alleys, exclude a large cemetery and bring about such results as to cause Conewago Twp. to have to maintain 905 feet of Blettner Ave. and approximately 1,000 feet of alleys without having any taxable property adjoining to help pay the expense of such maintenance.

Gerald E. Hale, New Oxford, and Donald Smith, Gettysburg R. 5, were each sentenced to three months in the county jail on charges of drag racing in New Oxford on October 28 as the result of which Smith's car crashed into the square and he was hospitalized. Smith was placed on immediate parole for one year because he had already served 22 days in jail and was given 60 days in which to pay the costs.

SPORTSMEN TO ADOPT $4,600 BUDGET FOR '65

The Adams County Fish and Game Association at its meeting Friday night in the clubhouse near Orrtanna established a $4,600 budget for the year, discussed plans for establishment of a state-controlled fly fishing area in the county, reported about 8,000 trout will be ready for pre-season stocking, discussed the possibility of carrying out stream improvements, and set up a committee to improve game and hunting in the county.

President Clark Spence presided at the meeting at which George Lower, Chambersburg St., was appointed chairman of a committee to attempt to make arrangements for an area that would be open for fly fishing only, under state control.

General discussion indicated the organization plans over a period of years to carry out improvement of all streams by placing small dams and by other means. The discussion indicated that probably the first efforts for stream improvement will be made on Little Marsh Creek.

Dale Sheffer, Stevens St., and Terry Culp, Cashtown, were appointed co-chairmen of a committee which is to make a study and report back on "a reliable project for improving game and hunting in the county."

Police Of Two States Chase Fleeing Auto For 70 Miles

Two Baltimore men and a woman, who had a teen-age hitchhiker in their car, led borough, state, Emmitsburg Police Chief Wilmer Law, several Maryland state police cars and Westminster officers Friday night on a 90-mile-an-hour chase that started on Buford Ave. here and ended near the Westminster High School. During the chase the car of Chief Law and a Maryland state police vehicle were damaged.

The trio, whose names were listed by borough police as Ralph Edward Catlett, Albert Andrew Downes, Julia Ann Ogden, all of Baltimore, are in the Westminster jail. The hitchhiker was identified as Leon M. Cowan, Orrtanna R. 1. The car they were driving was reportedly stolen in Baltimore.

TRIO IS ARRESTED

The two men and the woman were arrested on foot five blocks from where they abandoned their car in Westminster. The most frightened person in the group was the teen-ager from Caledonia who had "hitched" a ride with the trio on Chambersburg St. about 11:15 o'clock Friday night and then was taken on the wild ride when police began the chase. Borough police brought the youth here from Westminster and then made arrangements for him to return home after his wild 70-mile ride.

Riot Police, Soldiers, Copters Battle Reds In Malaysian Demonstration

By TONY ESCODA

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Riot police, reinforced by heavily armed soldiers and helicopter support, battled leftists who stormed the downtown section today, demanding overthrow of the Malaysia federation.

One mob of about 200 youths marched on the U. S. Information Service library, smashing windows with poles, rocks and by hurling a bicycle into the building.

Tear gas barrages pushed back the demonstrators and police erected barbed wire barricades at key intersections. Soldiers with fixed bayonets and automatic weapons manned the barricades.

CLEAR STREETS

Downtown streets were cleared after several hours and an emergency curfew was clamped on the heart of the capital. Major thoroughfares were deserted. The government radio broadcast warnings for all persons to stay indoors. The cabinet of Prime Minister Abdul Rahman met in emergency session.

Jury Finds New Oxford Mailman Guilty After 4 Hrs.; Set Penalty Quickly

An Adams County jury Friday evening sentenced Alton Blair Clark, 39-year-old New Oxford mail carrier, to life imprisonment after finding him guilty of murder in the first degree in the October 14 slaying of his wife, Mrs. Dolores Laura Clark, 36, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mae Beatrice Kuhn, 58.

The jury deliberated for nearly four hours before bringing in its verdict of guilty in the first degree in both murders.

It took only two minutes to reach its decision on whether he should be given the death penalty or be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Judge W. C. Sheely explained to the jury after it had brought in its guilty verdicts that the Legislature has placed the responsibility for the life or death of those found guilty of first degree murder directly on the jury. The court noted that the Legislature, in providing for either life imprisonment or death, had recognized that there were differences in the degree of punishment that should be imposed, but added that "there are no criteria we can give you to help you make your determination."

Clark, who appeared less ruddy in complexion Friday than during the earlier days of the trial, watched the jurors attentively as they delivered their verdict.

50-MINUTE CHARGE

He watched as the 12 jurors were polled following their return with the first degree murder verdicts, and each one in turn rose as his name was called by Deputy Clerk Patricia Mummert and repeated: "I find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree in both cases."

Judge W. C. Sheely completed his 50-minute charge to the jury at 2:05 Friday afternoon. From that time until 5 o'clock the jurors were sequestered. At 5 they returned to the courtroom to ask a question, Paul E. Bricker, Gardner, the foreman, asked the court whether the jury determines the sentence in second degree murder, or whether it determines the sentence in first degree murder, only. After replying that the jury gives the sentence only in first degree murder, Judge Sheely asked if the jury was near a verdict. Bricker said it was and the court ordered the reservations for a night's stay by the jury at Critteron motel cancelled.

CLARK CALM

Clark, who had on several occasions burst into sobs during the course of the trial, was calm throughout the delivery of the verdict and seemed very composed when the jury arrived to give its decision between life and death. He gave no indication whether he was pleased that life imprisonment had been imposed rather than death.

Neither the Commonwealth nor the defense offered any testimony during the hearing following the verdict and prior to the jury's deliberating on its sentence.

"ONE MISTAKE"

Attorney Eugene Hartman however argued to the jury that it should consider in making its decision that Clark "in 39 years of life made one mistake, that on October 14, prior to that he had served his family well, he had served his country well as a mail carrier in his community for 15 1/2 years and by service in the army during World War II and the Korean War. He had served his church as a councilman, and, as you heard testified his reputation in his community was of the highest.

"And this was testified to by high class citizens, a manufacturer, a banker, two ministers, a former county superintendent of schools.

"He did not ask to have a fractured skull, he did not ask for interference from his mother-in-law. You have heard the testimony of doctors as to his mental condition, as to what additional stress, additional emotion could very possibly have done to him. To what degree can we say, each of us say 'that but for an act of God there walk I.' We ask that you spare his life and let society try to save him."

"DEATH JUSTIFIED"

District Attorney Walmer said: "I submit to you that the death penalty would be justified. I speak in the name of the two women who were killed. The manner in which it was done was horrible.

"It was not done from passion, but was a carefully planned, ruthless killing. I submit that his reputation has been good, but when he did go astray what he did was most horrible."

that shift, received a report that a car was "racing through alleys." They stopped a car of that description on Buford Ave. but when Potter started towards the vehicle the driver took off toward Seminary Ridge.

OTHERS JOIN CHASE

The pursued car turned into the Fairfield Rd. where state police joined the chase. The officers pursued the car through Fairfield, into Emmitsburg where Officer Law joined the chase after calling Maryland state police to assist.

At a roadblock on the Taneytown Rd. the fleeing car bypassed the two police vehicles and sped on. On the four-lane highway leading into Westminster four other Maryland police vehicles joined the chase.

Police efforts to force the fleeing car off the road failed. Law's machine was damaged when he attempted to stop the pursued motorists. A Maryland trooper's car was damaged when he attempted to ram the escapee's car from the rear.

Finally a Maryland officer severed the oil line of the fleeing car with one shot.

At Westminster the trio fled on foot, leaving the hitchhiker alone in the car.

Police and police dogs captured the trio five blocks farther on in Westminster.

What may be stolen merchandise was found in the abandoned car which had been stolen in Baltimore Thursday.

FILES ANSWER IN TONSEL CASE

The answer of James F. Maroney, superintendent of the State Correctional Institution at Pottsville, to the petition of Richard Tonsel for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in Adams County court Friday.

Tonsel was sentenced March 10, 1952, to from 10-to-20 years on a larceny charge and from 2½-to-5 years on an assault with intent to ravish charge, with the second sentence to begin at the expiration of the first. Maroney reported that the minimum 12½ years was up September 2, 1964 and the maximum 25 years will be completed March 2, 1977.

Maroney said that on July 24, 1964, the Pennsylvania Board of Parole considered Tonsel's application for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentence, but "advised Richard that he refused him parole because of the history of his care, his pattern of irresponsibility, poor institutional adjustment, lack of insight, and the need for further observation." The parole board announced that his application for parole was rescheduled for consideration in 18 months.

Maroney's report noted that Tonsel had received a number of transfers between various institutions of the Bureau of Correction, both "for demerit and administrative reasons." His last transfer was on March 6, 1963, to the Pittsburgh penitentiary.

WOMAN HURT IN BY-PASS

A 60-year old Blue Ridge Summit woman suffered several fractured ribs and lacerations of the face Friday afternoon in an accident at the intersection of Rt. 97 and Rt. 15 bypass, Emmitsburg, when the automobile in which she was a passenger failed to stop at a pass signal and struck a northbound auto broadside.

Ann H. Hersley was admitted to the Warner Hospital after a car operated by Ella Mae Buffington, 65, Blue Ridge Summit, traveling west on Rt. 97, failed to stop at the intersection and struck the right side of a 1964 Ford sedan operated by Fred Dewitt Miller, 57, Hershey, Pa. Mrs. Buffington suffered bruises of the face and body but refused medical attention. Miller was not injured.

Trooper E. F. Tracey, Maryland State Police, who investigated the accident, placed the blame for the mishap on the woman operator, who has not yet been charged.

The intersection has been the scene of three fatal accidents since the bypass was opened to traffic in December. The highway department placed flashing lights and additional stop signs at the intersection in an effort to eliminate the hazard.

COURT OKAYS MERGER VOTE IN 2 DISTRICTS

The Adams County court this morning granted a petition of the Adams County Board of School Directors to have the question of school merger submitted to the voters of Mt. Joy Twp. and Straban Twp. school districts at the May 18 primaries.

The court ordered also framed the question which will be placed on the May ballots in those two districts. The voters will have the opportunity to vote "yes" or "no" on the question of whether they favor a "joinder" and merger" with the Gettysburg Area School District.

Only Mt. Joy Twp. School District will vote on the question and not voters in the Mt. Joy Independent School District which was created a year ago in the south end of Mt. Joy Twp. The Gettysburg Merger School District now includes Gettysburg borough and Freedom and Highland Twp.

The petition to the court, presented by Attorney Eugene Hartman as solicitor for the county school board, review the background of the merger and stated that the move has the approval of the State Council of Education. The petition was signed by Dean Asquith, president of the county board, and by Hugh C. McElhenny, its secretary.

Preliminary approval of the proposed merger vote had been given by the school board of the Gettysburg Merged District.

Hale was told that he will be given a parole in 20 days because by that time he will have served 22 days, and was ordered to pay the costs.

Fred Hurley, Newville, was given a suspended sentence on condition he pay $250 and the costs for the use of the county on a charge of establishing a gambling place based on pin ball machines taken at the Gettysburg VFW home on April 30, 1964. Hurley said he had disposed of all pin ball machines he had owned and had burned 47 upright machines.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Pedro Miranda, Gettysburg, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a license. He told the court he had disposed of his car and said, "I don't want to see no car, no license, no more."

Robert E. Ayers, 19, Gardner R. 1, and Wilbur C. Alexander, 20, Biglerville, were given a suspended sentence and each ordered to pay a fine of $25 and the costs on a charge of larceny and conspiracy based on the theft of light bulbs from outdoor Christmas decorations at private homes in Biglerville. Biglerville Officer Dale Guise told the court that during the Christmas season 300 to 400 light bulbs were stolen from decorations in that community and most were destroyed.

Judge W. C. Sheely said that people who go to the trouble of placing such decorations should be protected and that "this is about the meanest kind of theft."

IS FINED $25
Gerald F. Parson, Gardner R. 1, was fined $25 on an assault and battery charge brought against him by Emerson S. McCoy. McCoy told the court he was hunting in a cornfield when a shotgun pellet struck him. He said he went out and accused Sherman Wilkinson and at this point Parson "got into it." "Parson," McCoy said, "poked me with his gun, knocked me down, and hit me on the back of the head." Parson alleged that McCoy had "long whiskers and looked like a beatnik and attempted to hit me." Parson said he struck back and pleaded guilty to the assault and battery because he kicked McCoy in the head after McCoy was down.

All six members of the two hunting parties involved were present for the sentencing.

The court was notified this morning by Atty. Oscar F. Spicer, representing the defendant, that the action in assumption brought by the Town and Country LP Gas Co., Gettysburg R. D., against Franklin S. Kunkel, trading as Kunkel's Appliance Store, scheduled for the current civil term of court, has been settled.

Two men were placed on parole for one year on condition that arrangements be completed for their employers to deduct from their wages sums each week until fines and costs are paid. STATE PROBE IS BEGUN IN MIDWAY FIRE

Representatives of the state fire marshal's office joined area firemen Friday in investigating the source of the blaze which gutted the Wedge-Wood Inn at nearby Midway late Thursday afternoon, resulting in 10 persons being injured.

Troopers William Kattner and Alfred Reece, representatives of the fire marshal's office, were joined in the probe by George Baker, chief of Midway Fire Company, and John Murren, Adams County fire marshal.

Kattner said the investigation would be continued Monday after the ruins of the 69-year-old three-story stone structure have cooled.

HURT SERVING COFFEE

Conewago Township police said Kenneth Noel, a member of the Midway Fire Company, suffered a laceration of a finger early Friday while on standby duty at the scene. He was treated at Hanover General Hospital and discharged. Six other firemen were reported earlier as being injured.

Firemen said Mrs. Margaret Grot, a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of McSherrystown Fire Company, suffered a fractured right shoulder when she slipped while serving coffee to firemen fighting the blaze.

Harper Bair, a member of the McSherrystown company, was given oxygen treatment for smoke inhalation.

CHEF "SATISFACTORY"

Leon Strine, chef at the inn, was listed in satisfactory condition last night at Hanover General Hospital where he is under observation for possible internal injuries. Firemen said Strine was "knocked off his feet" by an explosion which occurred in connection with the fire.

The building, formerly known as the "Blue Gables," and its contents were valued at $250,000 by Dewey James, co-owner. Chief Becker said no estimate of damage would be available until completion of an investigation by insurance officials.

Jury Finds

After the sentence had been imposed, the court excused the jurors until Monday, noting that two of the jurors who had not been on the regular panel for the term were excused finally. Ten of the jurors had been selected from the regular panel; four, including the two alternates, were selected from a group of 50 gathered last Tuesday evening by the sheriff and his deputies.

The two alternates, Dorsey Rebert and Mrs. Shirley Plattenberg, were excused at 2:05 Friday afternoon when the jury retired to begin its deliberations. The two had listened to all of the testimony and had been confined with the other jurors at all times, day and night, while the trial was underway. Their purpose was to replace any of the original 12 who might become ill during the course of the trial. When there was no need for them at the time the jury began its final deliberations, they were excused.

In notifying the jurors to return Monday, the court said there are only five jury trials remaining in the current term of criminal court.

The Ewing murder case is not among the five cases for trial but is now understood to be scheduled for the May term of court.

TEN YEARS AGO

The homeless hobo will find a new structure awaiting him in Adams County next summer.

At a meeting of the county commissioners, sitting as the institution district board Thursday at the county home, they decided to erect a small one-room concrete block "hobo house" to replace the present three-room frame building that was provided overnight accommodations for the knights of the road for many years.

Transients had used the siding of the structure for firewood. Now the siding is off more than half of the structure.

County officials claim that the building — open to the breeze on three sides, doorless and windowless, is unfit for hobo habitation but there are still a number of wanderers seeking lodging and so the county is going to build them a new overnight shelter. The site has not been decided.

Mrs. Allen M. Sprinkle was installed as president of the Mothers' Club of St. Francis Xavier School Thursday evening at a meeting in the school at 6 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Wallace E. Sawdy, assistant pastor, was the installing officer.

Others installed were: Vice President, Mrs. Wayne Asper; secretary, Mrs. Joseph H. Riley; treasurer, Mrs. Paul Baird.

Appointment of a second assistant county farm agent for Adams County was announced today.

John D. Naugle, Hooversville, Somerset County, has been named as a new member of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association staff and began his duties this week.

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, Fairfield Road, has been appointed chairman of Region 8, Pennsylvania Welfare Forum. Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, Harrisburg, president of the Forum, announced today. She succeeds Henry Phelps. Mrs. Bream recently attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Region at Harrisburg. Today she announced that the next annual Region 8 meeting will be held at Gettysburg College, sometime in April.

Dr. Charles Humphrey Heldt, 57, who had practiced here as an osteopath since 1922, died in his sleep about 6 o'clock this morning at his home along the Table Rock Rd., Gettysburg R. 3.

A heart condition caused death.

Samuel Kessel was elected president of the Gettysburg Battlefield Guides Association at a meeting last night in the council chambers at the engine house. He succeeds Walter Reynolds, who is ill, and resigned as president of the group.

The Gettysburg Building and Loan Association has moved its offices from the court house basement to 145 Baltimore St. President Jesse E. Snyder announced today. The new offices are in the property of Mrs. J. P. Dalbey.

Burgess William G. Weaver is certain that "the nation's most honest man — or possibly woman — resides in York."

Twenty-five years ago the Weaver store, which for almost a half century was one of the largest establishments in Gettysburg, closed its doors. Burgess Weaver, as executor of the Weaver estate had the unpleasant duty.

Today's Talk

SELF-MASTERY
The one great objective in life, for each one of us, is to gain self-mastery. That, in itself, is a life job, and the most important. One's own happiness and success depend upon this one thing.

Edwin Grant Conklin, that eminent American biologist who died in 1952, once wrote that "when children are taught not merely to know things but particularly to know themselves, not merely how to do things but especially how to compel themselves to do things, they may be said to be really educated."

We are endowed with a masterful power in that of the will. It is this will to do that makes us do. It is what has been the contributing factor in all great and successful lives. It is the secret of self-mastery. Anyone who has become the master of himself can easily be an influence and power for the uplifting of many others — far more than he ever realizes.

A famous neurologist has said that this knowing of oneself "is the principal science of life." Yet how little we know about this science! The more we learn of the reactions to the good and wholesome acts of our nature the higher we get in the scale of progress and self-mastery. In other words, we grow by learning.

We can only gain that peace of mind for which we all strive, not by "rejecting passions which are unruly, but only by recognizing, accepting and sublimating them," as J. Arthur Hadfield so well said. And I like that saying of William James in his wonderful chapter on "Habit" — "Keep the faculty of effort alive in you by a little gratuitous exercise every day."

We need have little worry about the upshot of our success in life if we will ourselves each day of our lives to become just a little more master of ourselves under complete self-control. It will do us little good to keep our eyes upon someone else. We alone are the object of our fate, our individual happiness, and our success.

Socrates' most famous utterance were these two words: "Know thyself!" They can well supplement those of Shakespeare: "This above all: To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Just Folks

KNOW-NOTHING
If I knew the right from wrong,
Knew the shortest way through doubt

Which has puzzled men so long,
I would gladly point it out.
But when wiser men than I
Over matters can't agree,
And dispute each how and why,
No advice they get from me.

To omniscience I've no claim.
As a thinker I'm too slow.
I've said "Yes" and signed my name
When I should have shouted "No!"

I've been saddened through and through
By what later has occurred,
When what once seemed best to do
Proved a blunder most absurd.

When mistakes are plain to see,
Quick to censure I'm not one.
Were the problem put to me,
I'm not sure what I'd have done.

I confess, though hard I try
To be right the whole day long,
All too oft it happens I
Have unwittingly done wrong.

letter from York, addressed to him as son of "Horace Weaver. In the quavering writing that bespeaks advanced age was a note saying: "A debt of honor" and informing him that the writer had not paid for $1.50 worth of material obtained at the Weaver store — at least a quarter century ago.

The name of the writer was illegible, but he enclosed $5, which Weaver figured was the estimate by the author of the letter of the original cost, plus interest and considering inflation of money since the time the merchandise was originally secured.

BUSTS INDOOR SHOT PUT MARK

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Young Randy Matson of Texas A&M, who broke the world indoor shot put record Friday night says his next goal will be the world outdoor mark.

The 19-year-old Texan heaved the shot 65 feet 8 1/4 inches dazing a thunderous crowd of 7,000 at the fifth Will Rogers Indoor Games.

The toss eclipsed the 64-11 3/4 standard set in 1962 by Gary Gubner of New York University. Matson, a 255-pounder said a Dallas meet tonight will be the last indoor competition of the year for him.

He said he plans to lay off a week and begin preparations for a concentrated attack on the outdoor shot put record of 67-10 held by Dallas Long.

Matson stole the show Friday night, following his record-shattering first throw, with heaves of 64-7 1/2, 63-1 1/2, 60-11 3/4. He scratched at 64-4.

Ralph Boston, the heralded broad jump wizard, won his speciality but his leap of 24-10 1/4 was less than spectacular. Olympian Billy Hardin of Louisiana State beat back a challenge from Boston to win the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.4.

Youth Claims He Killed On A Whim

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Marvin Rudy Pannell, 18, was scheduled for arraignment today on charges of murdering a 59-year-old merchant last Jan. 27.

Pannell, a student at an IBM school, was quoted Friday as telling police he killed Samuel Ostroff on a whim. He said he had no intention of killing Ostroff when he entered his clothing store, but once in there, police quoted him as saying, "I just felt like shooting the place up."

Ostroff was shot twice near the front of his store about midday, while unaware shoppers passed by on the busy sidewalk.

YANCEY LEADS GOLF TOURNEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The spotlight was on Bert Yancey, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger as the $67,500 Phoenix Open golf tournament moved into its third round today but defending champion Jack Nicklaus was waiting in the wings.

Yancey, the first round leader, shot a 70 Friday, and Beard and Geiberger came through with 69s to tie for the second round lead at 137.

Nicklaus, with a 69, was one of three just two strokes back at 139. The others were Claude King with a 67 and Rod Funseth, who shot a 68.

The scores on the 6,584-yard Arizona Country Club course improved Friday and winds which had swept the desert layout the day before died down. Excellent weather was forecast for today's round and Sunday's finale.

Among the name golfers with in striking distance were veterans Doug Sanders at 73-68-141, Julius Boros at 70-72-142 and two-time Phoenix champion Gene Littler at 73-70-143.

British Open champ Tony Lema and Bill Casper Jr., who won last week's $100,000 Desert Golf Classic at Palm Springs, Calif., had 144 each.

Warriors Drop Buffaloes In Easy 83-57 Win; Meet Bubbler Here Tuesday

Gettysburg High primed itself for its three-game home stand in its drive for the second half title of the Blue Mountain League by crushing Newport 83-57 Friday evening on the Buffaloes' floor. The victory keeps the Warriors in a first place tie with Shippenburg and Susquehanna.

Next week the Warriors meet Boiling Springs here on Tuesday, Biglerville on Thursday, and then finish the following Tuesday with Camp Hill.

In winning their fifth second half game for an overall 11-5 mark, Gettysburg never had any trouble with the hopeless Buffaloes.

The Warriors opened with a 20-11 lead in the first period when Dick Finkboner landed five goals and a foul and Kit Richardson netted a pair of twin pointers and four free tosses. That lead rocketed to 42-25 at half time. Chris Folkemer sparked the second frame attack with all 9 of his 15 points on three goals and nine of 10 foul tries.

The entire Gettysburg squad saw action before the end of the game and 10 of the players scored.

Following Richardson in the scoring parade was Folkemer with 15 and Finkboner with 11. Ronnie Chapman rimmed with 19.

RESERVES IN BREEZE
The Gettysburg reserves ran up their biggest point output of the campaign with a 73-32 triumph in the preliminary. Earl Little's lads are now 13-2 for the season. Tim Whittinghill, John Heiser and John Flynn hit in double figures.

Rider Stuns Mountaineer Cagers With 90-78 Extra Period Decision Friday

Mt. St. Mary's slumping basketball team dropped its third game in its last four starts when Rider College of Trenton, N. J., handed the Mountaineers a stunning 90-78 overtime setback Friday evening at Emmitsburg.

The Mountaineers appeared headed for victory when they built up a 43-31 but then started to fall apart with the Broncs finally deadlocking the score a 76-76 at the end of the regulation game.

It was all Rider in the overtime as they poured 14 points through the hoop in the five-minute period while the Mountaineers managed two points.

Dick Kuchen, 6-8 ace for Rider, topped all scorers with 26 point and Mike Haefler netted 21.

The Mounts, who previously had won handily over Rider at Trenton, were led by John Carrell and Pete Johnston with 21 and 16.

HAVE SUNDAY GAME
Mt. St. Mary's, now 15-4 overall, returns to Mason-Dixon Conference competition Sunday afternoon against Washington College at Chestertown, Md.

Monday evening the Mountaineers meet Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, W. Va., and Wednesday entertain American University at Emmitsburg in an M-D game. Both games will be broadcast by Waynesboro's WAY-FM station, 101.5.

ST. FRANCIS PREP DEFEATS BERMUDIAN 5
Bermudian Springs dropped its 10th straight basketball game on Friday night at York Springs when St. Francis Prep overcame an 8-0 deficit and coasted to a 72-53 victory. The loss drops the Eagles' season record to 4-15.

After trailing through the first quarter, the visitors found the range and outscored the Eagles in each of the final three periods. A 19-12 advantage in the second quarter gave the Hilltoppers a 37-32 lead at half time but it took a 21-9 fourth quarter advantage to put the game out of reach.

Don Fazio and Mike Dickerson paced the winners with 22 and 19 points respectively. Grafton Wagner was the only Eagle in double figures with 18 points.

The St. Francis reserves made it a clean sweep with a 45-42 win over the Bermudian JV's in the preliminary game. The Eagle scrubs are now 9-9 overall.

Bermudian returns to Adams-Franklin league action when it travels to James Buchanan on Tuesday.

KNICKS PUSH CELTICS INTO OVERTIME TILT

The New York Knickerbockers are giving Boston fits considering they trail the Celtics by 29 games in the National Basketball Association standings and have beaten the defending champions only once in eight season meetings.

The Knicks, who managed to bug Celtic star Bill Russell and Coach Red Auerbach while losing by 28 points the last time the teams met, pushed Boston into overtime Friday night before bowing 94-92.

The Eastern Division leaders, now 50-11 on the season, puttered repeatedly before John Havlicek's bucket with 30 seconds to play in overtime finally shook off the lowly Knicks.

FRISCO BEATEN
Elsewhere, Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 114-95 and maintained its two-game Western margin over St. Louis, which walloped Baltimore 144-100.

Havlicek also sank a last-second desperation shot from the corner, sending the Boston-New York game into overtime after the cold-shooting Celtics had blown a seven-point bulge. Havlicek then capped a seven-point closing burst that brought Boston from behind in the extra period.

Sam Jones scored 34 points for the Celtics. Rookie Jim Barnes led New York with 23.

OTHER GAMES
The Lakers outscored San Francisco 10-2 for a 77-64 advantage in the third quarter and won going away. Two layups by Dick Barnett off fast breaks triggered the spurt. Jerry West's 29 points paced the Lakers. Guy Rodgers hit 27 for the Warriors, who lost Nate Thurmond in the final period when the big center reinjured his back.

St. Louis overpowered Baltimore with an 84-point second half. The Hawks hit on 17 of 27 shots in their 45-point third quarter. Charley Vaughn, with 19 points, topped nine Hawks in double figures. The Bullets played without injured Gus Johnson and Walt Bellamy sat out most of the game after encountering early foul trouble.

CLIPPERS ON MOVE AGAIN; WIN 4-3 TILT
The victory gave Baltimore a two-point edge on Springfield, which tied Hershey 4-4 in one of three overtime contests, in the battle for the third and last playoff spot in the Eastern Division.

Pittsburgh topped Cleveland 7-6, virtually killing the losers' post-season hopes for the first time in 25 seasons, and Buffalo beat Providence 3-2 in the other overtime games.

Baltimore rallied from a 2-0 deficit in the opening minutes to down the Western Division-leading Americans. Richardson's first goal tied the score in the second period. After Gordon Labossiere put the Clippers in front, Richardson scored an insurance goal on another solo dash.

SCORELESS PERIOD
Neither Springfield nor Hershey could score in a 10-minute extra period after Jimmy Anderson's second goal of the game — with 30 seconds remaining in regulation play — had brought the Indians from behind for the fourth time.

Anderson's tying goal, his 31st of the season, came after Springfield pulled goalie George Wood for a sixth skater in the final minute.

Lowell MacDonald's power play goal with 1½ minutes left in overtime broke up the high-scoring Pittsburgh-Cleveland game. Wayne Larkin had knotted the score with 1:30 to go in the third period. Cleveland, the defending Calder Cup champion, now trails the third-place Hornets by 15 points.

Art Stratton scored twice for Buffalo and set up Len Lunde's winning tally at the six-minute mark in the overtime session. Ed Chadwick, the Bisons' goaltender, kicked away 48 Providence shots as Buffalo cut Rochester's Western lead to 12 points.

Sugar Ray Refuses To Fight When Purse Isn't Available

By CHARLES STAFFORD
Associated Press Writer
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Boxing tried to take a step up the social ladder last night, but the rung broke.

It came tumbling back to earthy reality 10 minutes before Sugar Ray Robinson was to demonstrate his art to a well turned out audience in the carpeted ballroom of a Clearwater hotel.

Robinson said he had not been paid and there was no one to guarantee that he would get paid and that he was not going to fight. He didn't.

It was the last of a series of haymakers fate had been throwing all day.

Promoter Al King — who had decided that boxing's social status could be improved by attracting women to ringside, and that women could only be attracted if the ring were in the right sort of place — collapsed at his home.

PATIENT IN HOSPITAL
He was admitted to a hospital suffering from extremely high blood pressure.

Sonny Moore, the little-known Canadian who was to meet Robinson, came down with flu. Earl Basting of Tampa was substituted.

Twelve hundred places were laid on the banquet tables that surrounded the ring in the center of the ballroom. But only 300 persons showed up. Even fewer paid the $15 tab.

Many were women in cocktail dresses. Their escorts wore ties and coats.

The meal was eaten, the preliminaries fought.

Ten minutes before the main event, newsmen were called to a room above the ballroom where Robinson slumped in a chair.

VERY SICK MAN
"Since they didn't have a boxing commission here, this was our agreement, that I would get my money before the fight," the

Says Many Pastures In County In Need Of Lime

THOMAS E. PIPER
County Farm Agent

Many permanent pastures in Adams County need liming. Most of them have been neglected so long that the soils are too acid for top production.

The first stage in pasture improvement is the application of the needed amount of lime.

Liming of pastures corrects acid soil conditions that have developed through years of neglect; stimulates the biological activity of the soil, particularly the nitrogen-forming process; renders and keeps other fertilizer elements like phosphate more available; and improves soil structure.

Calcium is one of the bone-building elements necessary in the production of healthy, profitable livestock. Since many pastures in the county are deficient in calcium, the forage is also deficient. An application of limestone applies calcium to the soil.

Liming acid soils will increase the yields of legumes. Many of the failures associated with these crops may be caused by the lack of lime.

HERD NEEDS CHECK-UP
There never has been any other time in the history of dairy farming when a regular monthly check-up on the production of each individual cow presented as many opportunities on most farms for increasing income as it does today. Various types of automation, have reduced labor requirements and made it possible to increase the number of cows cared for per man.

The old-time hand milker could judge production by the milk in the pail, and the number of cows he was able to milk was not large enough to tax his capacity to remember the relative production of individual cows. In contrast, today's operator of a milking parlor equipped with pipeline, bulk tank, and several milking machine units, is not in a position to check on each individual cow in the herd.

Dairymen with production records (DHIA) marketed 4,500 lbs. more milk per cow in 1964, than the dairymen without records. This extra milk was worth $210 per cow to the dairymen who checked his cows for production each month. The complete electronically processed DHIA records cost him $7 per cow for the year, a very good profit.

Some program of monthly check-up on individual production is a must for efficient and profitable dairy management. Further details of the DHIA and Owner Sampler record keeping programs can be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Office.

MOLES DESTROY INSECTS

Moles usually feed on earthworms, grubs and insects that live in the soil. They search for food by extending their runways just under the surface of the soil. These tunnels can be seen as ridges of raised soil or turf. One mole alone may make extensive runways over as much as one-fourth acre of search for food. They have big appetites and in one day's time often eat enough insects and earthworms to equal their own weight.

Under most conditions, moles could be considered beneficial since they destroy many injurious insects. Moles should not be trapped or killed unless they cause injury to lawns, gardens, or cultivated plants. Mice and rats often use the runways, and the moles are blamed for damage that these rodents do to seeds, tubers and roots of cultivated plants. Moles, unlike mice and rats, seldom come out of the ground into the open. Also, unlike mice and rats, moles never have open runways on the soil.

It is difficult to rid moles from

FARM CALENDAR

Prune Trees—Most orchard men and landscapers prune their trees by the latter part of March because the dormant season is the best for this work. If shade trees are to be pruned or cut back the months of February and March are best suited for the job. Carl Bittner, extension pomologist, at the Pennsylvania State University, advises making clean cuts close the main limb or trunk so that they will not hold water.

Take Care of Garden Tools—Extension horticulture specialists at the Pennsylvania State University, remind gardeners to make sure their tools are stored in a dry place during the winter months. To prevent rust, clean metal portions and coat with a thin film of oil after cleaning.

Learn Gardening by Mail—The Pennsylvania State University's correspondence course "Home Vegetable Gardening" teaches practical methods and management. It also deals with essential equipment, soil and water needs, fertilizers and soil analysis and adapted garden crop varieties. Gardening experts at Penn State wrote the course primarily for people producing vegetables for their own use.

DOCK WORKERS RESUME WORK

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Longshoremen headed back to work today at most major East and Gulf Coast ports while efforts to settle local disputes at South Atlantic and Western Gulf ports were in recess for the weekend. Most locals accepted an order by Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, to end the 33-day strike in ports where local accords have been reached.

These agreements cover more than 80 per cent of the 75,000-80,000 dock workers at East and Gulf ports, including such major trade centers as New York, New Orleans, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Two Baltimore locals split on whether to return to work but they seemed to be the only holdouts against Gleason's order.

Gleason issued the directive as ILA leaders at Southern Atlantic and Western Gulf ports rejected recommendations of a three-man presidential panel for ending the dispute in their areas. Shippers approved the proposals.

an area. The use of specially designed traps is the most dependable method. The use of poison baits or gas is seldom successful on moles.

Mole runways in lawns and gardens are usually a good indication of a grub infestation in that area. Treating the area with chemicals to eliminate the grubs will make most areas less attractive to moles.

3 HEALTH CARE MEASURES ARE IN CONGRESS

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal program to provide health care for the elderly is picking its way through the congressional labyrinth again this year. Most observers expect it will win approval.

But the situation is somewhat tangled because three versions are actually under discussion: one that has President Johnson's backing; another espoused by many House Republicans, and a third that was prepared by the American Medical Association.

Here, in question and answer form, is a run-down and a comparison:

EXPECT PASSAGE

Q. Will Congress pass a health care for the aged bill this year?

A. All signs point to approval of something along the line of President Johnson's proposal for hospital benefits for those 65 or older.

Q. How far would it go?

A. It would be limited to some hospitalization, convalescent care in nursing home or at home and some diagnostic and similar outpatient services. Ordinary doctor bills and medicines would not be covered.

Q. Isn't there other legislation pending in Congress that would provide broader health benefits?

A. Yes. Two bills that have been much discussed lately call for covering many more kinds of health costs. These are a bill introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., in behalf of a group of Republicans and another measure drafted on suggestion of the American Medical Association.

Childless Parents Have Quadruplets

g. VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — After nearly five years of childless marriage, the doctor had news for Mr. and Mrs. Gary W. Gwilliam—quadruplets.

"I was stunned," said Mrs. Gwilliam. "My husband and I just looked at each other, and there was a moment of silence before either of us spoke."

Doctors say that the chance of quadruplets being born is one in a million. The Gwilliams' quads are due in mid-May.

Mrs. Gwilliam is 28. Her husband, a Ventura County deputy district attorney, is 27.

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP) — Robert B. Alexander, 23, wanted an airplane so much that he saved for it by selling his car and riding a bike.

Alexander, a student pilot with 55 hours flying time, struck power lines near an airfield at Orcutt Friday in a rented plane. It crashed and burned. Alexander died in the crash.

Police said Janice Wise of Columbus told them she took the pills over a two-day period because "Ringo has gotten married." She was hospitalized after she became sick at school Friday.

ATHLETES AT 3 ACADEMIES ARE LAUDED

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The varsity athlete at the nation's service academies is a cut above the average student and it's unfair to point a finger at him in the cheating scandals, the U.S. Naval Academy director of athletics says.

"Frankly I am deeply disturbed about the shadow that has been thrown over the athletes unjustifiably," Capt. Bill Busik said today. "We are taking this all the way to the Defense Department to put it in the proper light."

Twenty-nine football players were involved in the recent irregularities at the Air Force Academy, and 105 cadets resigned rather than face court martial. Forty-three of 45 football players were implicated in the West Point cribbing scandal of 1951.

"Our records at Navy, and I'm sure it's the same at the other academies, show that instead of being inferior the athlete normally is a superior student," Busik said.

SCHOLLANDER TO BE HONORED

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Don Schollander, 18-year-old Yale freshman who won four swimming gold medals in the Olympics at Tokyo last October, will be honored Sunday night as Male Athlete of the Year in 1964.

Schollander, a runaway winner in The Associated Press year-end poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, will receive the Frederick C. Miller memorial trophy. Mickey Wright, the pro golf queen voted Female Athlete of the Year a second straight time, had to cancel her appearance at the dinner. Miss Wright, who is nursing a stomach ulcer, was advised by her doctor to remain at her home in Dallas.

Schollander, whose home is in Oswego Lake, Ore., became the first swimmer ever to win four gold medals in the Olympics. His tremendous feat enabled him to become the first swimmer to be named Athlete of the Year in the 34-year history of The AP poll. He also won the Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete.

The United States Lawn Tennis Association will sponsor "National Lawn Tennis Week" starting May 2.

Klan, Black Muslims And Other Groups Under Probe By U.S. House Committee

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities is looking into the possibility of investigating the Ku Klux Klan, the Black Muslims, George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi party and the Minutemen.

The action was authorized unanimously at a closed meeting of the committee several days ago.

A resolution, not yet made public, called on chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., to continue preliminary inquiries into matters that had been brought to the committee's attention.

The resolution named no organizations, but, it was learned, discussion at the meeting left no doubt that the four organizations were the ones concerned.

EXTENSIVE PLANS

A source familiar with the committee's rules said the resolution is significant because while the chairman has standing authority to assign staff to preliminary checks, a full investigation may be undertaken only by committee vote. The full

Jack Penrose of Miami Beach and Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., were second with 214, followed by defending champions William Hyndman III of Philadelphia and Mrs. Philip Cudone of West Caldwell, N.J., with 219.

Billy Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga., and Marge Masters of Toronto, Canada, were fourth at 22. Truman Connell of Jupiter, Fla., and Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton, Ohio, went into final rounds fifth with 222.

membership of the committee, therefore, affirmatively associated itself with Willis' inquiries.

The same source cautioned, however, against assuming that the committee necessarily would order an actual investigation and said that hearings, even if agreed on, could not be held without long advance preparation.

Since World War II the committee has given practically all its attention to left-wing groups.

PONDER AUTHORITY
Among the questions to be considered during the preliminary stage are the extent of the committee's authority, the possibility of legislation that might result from an investigation and the religious issue that might be raised by a probe of the Black Muslims.

The Black Muslims assert they are a religious organization. This Negro group believes there never can be racial peace or integration and views whites as the embodiment of the devil.

The Klan, which has a history of anti-Negro and anti-Roman Catholic actions, is an organization of whites that dates back to reconstruction.

The Minutemen, a comparatively new group based in the Midwest, believe Communists will take over the government one day. They buy firearms and conduct drills for what they believe is an inevitable showdown.

Rockwell's Nazi party is segregationist and mirrors the anti-Jewish views of Hitler's Germany. The members affect the dress of the German Nazis of pre-World War II.

Comedy Spoofs German Soldiers In Old Haunts

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

Associated Press Writer
WILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Two German soldiers, believed killed by Russian artillery just before the end of World War II, turn up in their old haunts nearly 20 years later, saying they want only tranquility and good Bavarian ham and beer.

Are they ghosts, or are they real? If real, how came they here, and why? The old town of Untergrau trembles.

James J. Fox, editor of the Warren, Pa., Times-Mirror, takes it from there in his comedy, "The Two Grenadiers," which is being produced by the Villanova University Playbox.

Released at long last from Russian captivity, Schroeder, poet, philosopher and onetime teacher, and Vogel, easy-going musician, find their home town has grown fat on tourist trade, boosted by the discovery of hot springs and caves of natural wonders. One of their old Wehrmacht pals is now the mayor, and he, like the others, wants no reminders of the past.

GET SUSPICIOUS

Learning that Schroeder and Vogel are up to something in secret, the good burghers cannot conceal a fright that is rooted in their guilt as devoted followers of Hitler. Records are extant to prove that guilt. Schroeder, as company clerk, was known to have had them. The townsmen panic at the specter of blackmail, noting that allotted time for trying war criminals is running out.

The absurdity of their panic is exposed when they confront Schroeder and Vogel in a group and find that, yielding to a romantic, even public-spirited impulse, they had been writing a song cycle for the benefit of the tourists. Disillusioned, but with a patience born of bondage, the two leave the town, taking along a lovely barmaid who, it develops, is Vogel's daughter.

NAME FROM TUNE

"The Two Grenadiers" — it takes its name from the tune Vogel habitually plays on his flute—strives to offer ideas as well as comic situations. It makes cause with tolerance, unfailing humor, simple human dignity.

Schroeder is no mouthpiece of a lost generation. It is through him mainly that a healthy optimism glints: "In defeat we have won a new world, a new world for those of us with eyes to see it." In the character of those shamed by their own folly there are reminiscences of Kikolai Gogol — the emotional connotations, the coarse self-interest, the strut and meanness of small authority.

The play was first presented last weekend and is being repeated tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights, by a cast of graduates and undergraduates.

PAINT-BOMB RED MISSION IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — A chance meeting in a cafeteria between two men who had something in common — anti-Castroism and anti-communism — resulted in the "paint-bomb" attack Friday on the building of the Soviet mission to the United Nations, police reported.

Authorities gave this account: Sergio Mauri, 27, a self-described Cuban exile from Weehawken, N.J., and Andres Sar-Alvarez, 34, a free-lance photographer of West New York, N.J., shared a breakfast table at a New Jersey eating spot.

Discussing the recent stoning of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow by students protesting American action in Viet Nam, they decided on a two-man retaliation.

HAD RED PAINT

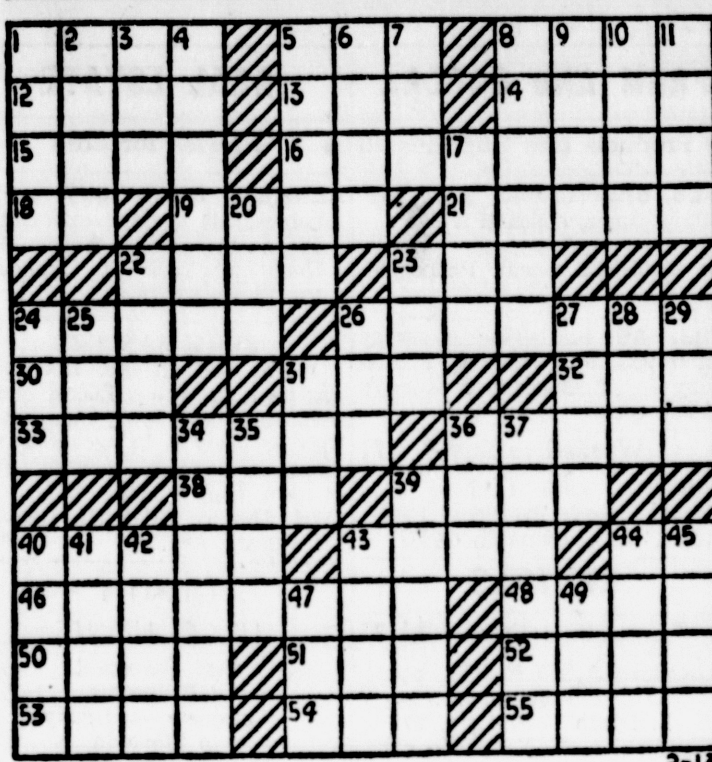

They jumped in Mauri's car, which contained five jars of red paint.

Arriving at the Soviet mission, on East 67th Street between Third and Lexington Aves.

Yesterday's Cryptquip: CROCUSES HIDE UNDER THE WHITE SNOW.

That description was delivered Friday by female speakers in a forum conducted by the Italian Automobile Club.

How did the men react? One, at least, agreed.

Club President Filippi Di Castagneto told the forum the woman at the wheel is "less aggressive than a male driver, less fond of high speeds, more observant of traffic regulations and seldom under the influence of alcohol."

When you are twisting the cork out of a bottle of champagne, hold the bottle at a forty-five degree angle.

Say Men Drivers Are Ill-mannered

ROME, Italy (AP) — In the opinion of Italian woman drivers, their male counterparts are "ill-mannered, presumptuous, nonchalant and disobedient of the traffic laws."

RED BAND IS SMASHED IN BORDER AREA

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces guarding the Da Nang air base, the source of two retaliatory U.S.-Vietnamese raids on North Viet Nam, Friday smashed a Viet Cong band that had dug in near the defense perimeter.

Five of the Red guerrillas were killed and 10 captured through a bombardment and a Ranger attack in that area 80 miles south of the border.

Military sources consider Da Nang a potential target for Viet Cong mortar crews, such as those that struck U.S. installations at Bien Hoa Nov. 1 and Pleiku last Sunday. Security precautions have been geared accordingly.

BOMBING SUCCESS

U.S. Air Force pilots who took part in Thursday's strikes across the 17th parallel said that bombing and strafing action was a success.

Cloudy weather was a handicap, "but it did not detract from the mission," said Maj. Robert F. Ronca, Norristown, Pa., commander of the 613th Tactical Fighter Squadron. "Results were quite good."

The cost of the latest strike was fixed at three U.S. Navy jet fighter-bombers lost and one American pilot captured.

BULLETINS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A sea battle between Fidel Castro patrols and an anti-Castro exile boat was reported Friday by the "Anti-Communist Cuban Army," an activist group.

The official said the encounter was not connected with Wednesday night's reported seizure of an American shrimp boat in Cuban waters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced Friday a high-level shakeup at the State Department with Averell Harriman to be replaced by Johnson's old friend, Thomas C. Mann, in the No. 3 post.

Mann, now assistant secretary for inter-American affairs, will become undersecretary for economic affairs. Harriman, who has held this undersecretaryship, will become an ambassador-at-large.

Succeeding Mann in the inter-American assignment will be Jack Hood Vaughn, now ambassador to Panama.

Robert Vaughn Combines Stardom With Study, Politics

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

Will the real Robert Vaughn please stand up?

The 32-year-old James-Bond-type-star of NBC's James-Bond-type-weekly thriller, "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," has been variously described as:

"The best actor today under 40";

"One of those really venerable faces Gloria Swanson prattled about in 'Sunset Boulevard'";

"An icy organized young man, a stickler for facts."

CALLED BLESSING

And in substance, NBC is probably calling him an unexpected midseason blessing. Because when "UNCLE's" good guy started chasing those THRUSH powers-of-evil on Monday nights at 8 (instead of Tuesday as originally) the rating for the period which had sunk to a low of 9.7 under the weight of "90 Bristol Court" starting rising a whopping 11 points. "You can bet UNCLE and Vaughn will be back in the fall," is the last word from NBC.

And what about some of the things people say about him?

APPROVE STORY

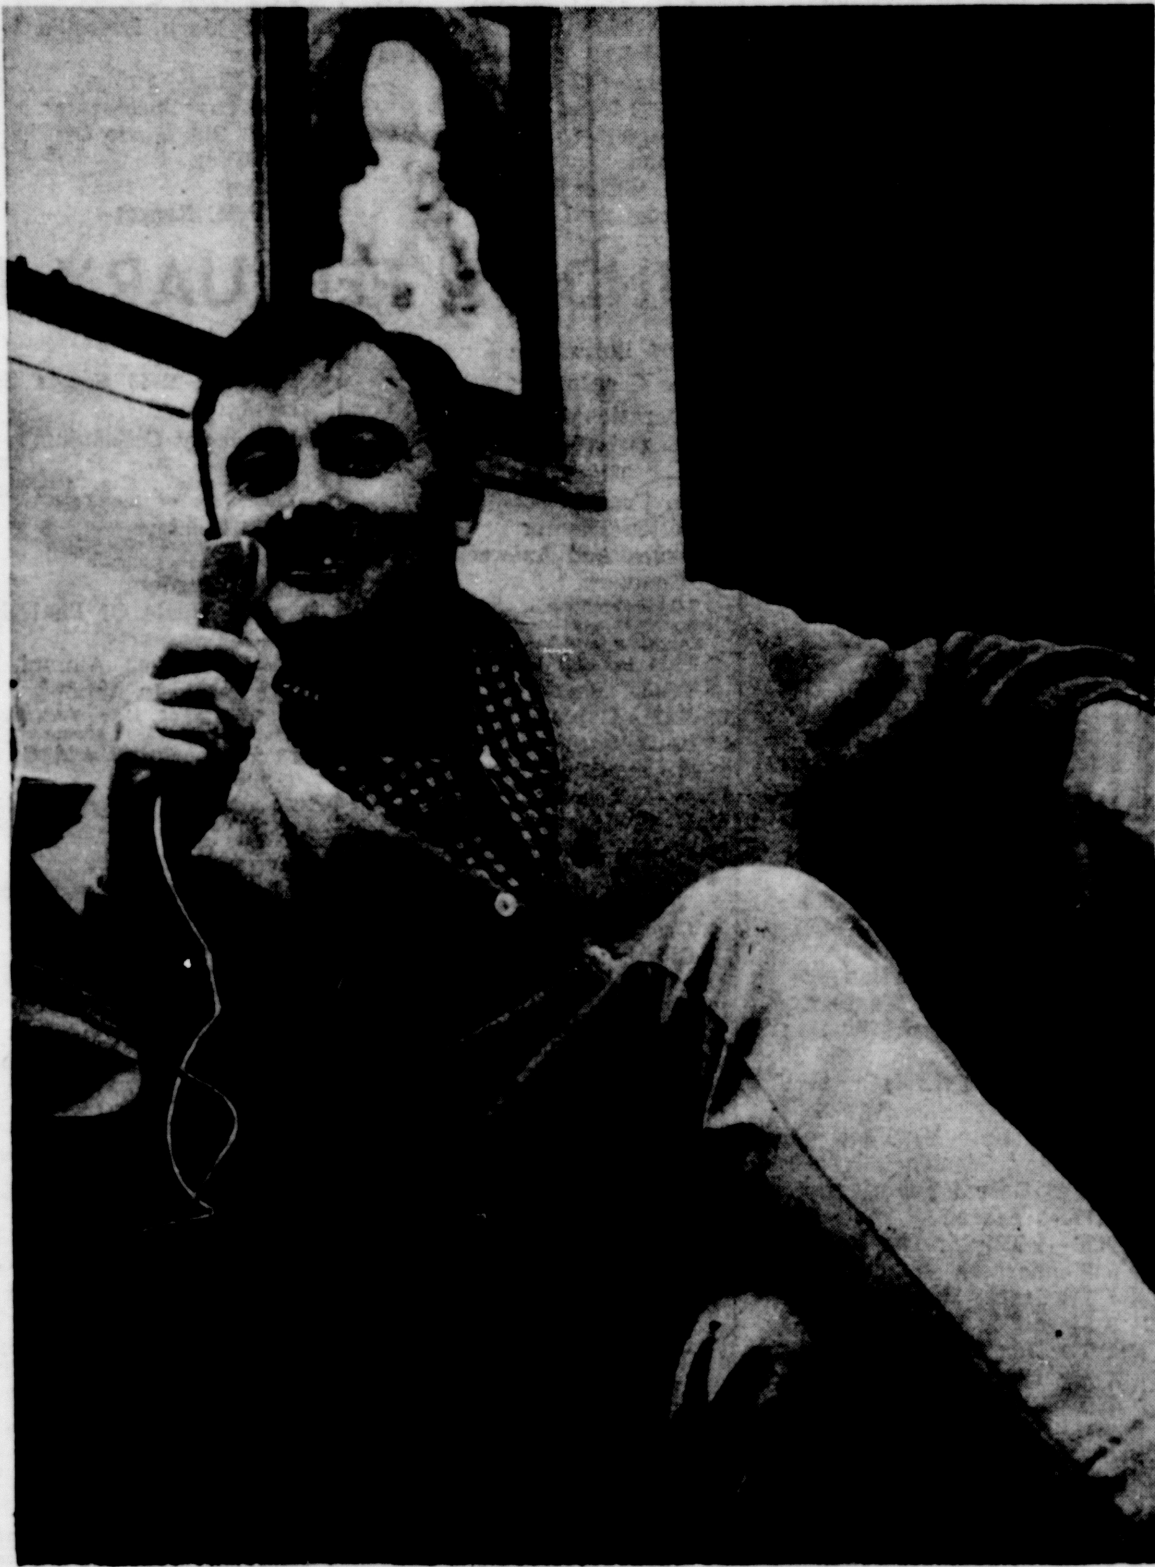

"The stickler for facts part is true where a particular kind of movie magazine is involved. I do insist that the story be written within a day of the interview and that I approve before it is printed." So, an irked reporter's "icy" is just something that adds up to "nothing but the truth" in Vaughn's own book.

"Well-organized" certainly aren't dirty words in his book either. How else could he keep a major career spinning with one hand, work on his Ph.D. degree and take a strong part in California's Democratic politics.

He was also raised on politics. "Is there an Irish-American Catholic who isn't?" is his quizzical question-answer.

LIBERAL TRADITIONS

"Obviously I stayed very much in the liberal tradition. Fortu-

"Highly organized" is the word on Robert Vaughn, shown here dictating. In addition to starring in "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," he's completing work on his Ph.D. and takes an interest in politics. U.N.C.L.E. is now seen Mondays, 8-9 p.m., NBC.

nately neither the sponsor nor the network infringes on my interest with politics. I'm fair with them, too. When I am on NBC time I do not infringe. I did take on personal speaking engagements for Pierre Salinger in his race for the California Senate . . . but I kept it local."

Will Vaughn himself, as reported elsewhere, eventually make politics a whole new career?

"Maybe, but certainly not for quite a while. It's become, you know, a rich man's luxury." The dark eyes snap. The straight set of the mouth bends upwards, but only at the corners. Maybe he's kidding?

"The more you think of it, maybe he is. But he kids so subtly he sometimes has to explain. As he told a light-night television interviewer: "Napoleon Solo is played tongue-in-cheek. It's always surprising to me to learn it isn't always taken that way!"

AUTHORITATIVE MANNER

Maybe the political family talk was warm, but the family acting tradition gave him a straight carriage and authoritative manner. Great for the larger-than-life role of Solo. It seems to be no help, though, in keeping predatory females away; if anything it magnetizes the squealers more.

"In California people get pretty used to seeing movie people. They pay no attention," says Vaughn. But here? Well the manager of his Central Park South Hotel reported that devoted teen-agers had been standing vigil for six hours. Lacking one of those secret passages that livens up the daring do's and don'ts of Solo's life. Vaughn adopted the service entrance as his hotel exit. "Now a nice civil 'hello' is fine. The cab driver, for example, thought I looked familiar . . . nice of him . . . but I hate to be touched by mobs." Certainly it was public acclaim that lured him into becoming a public figure.

WORKED WITH DAD

"I'd acted in radio as a child when I worked with my father, but I certainly hadn't intended to become an actor. In fact I entered the University of Minnesota as a journalism major." Though a native New Yorker, Vaughn did most of his growing up in Minnesota. "I lived with my grandmother and spent my vacations with my mother and father. Some years they were barely getting by, other years they'd be living in a lavish apartment on Central Park West. I didn't want that kind of uncertainty."

Robert Vaughn

But somehow he learned to eliminate the uncertainty for himself. "I started acting again at Minnesota, then transferred to California." After a stint in the Army (he holds a reserve commission as major) he was discovered by Hecht-Lancaster. And, with his second movie, "The Young Philadelphians," Robert Vaughn was nominated for the supporting Oscar. He's also found out how to earn better than a $100,000 a year and how to enjoy it.

ABANDONS LUXURY

Last year he had a thing about symphonic music as he drove to work ("four-speaker stereo and cartridges"). This year he's giving up part of the luxury. "I like to drive, but I figure I could use the time for study," so at last reports he was acquiring a chauffeur but for a modest-priced car ("the sponsor's, of course!").

Something he traded in even more reluctantly was his hope to establish a repertory company "with established stars doing one-night stands as guests. You see I know a lot of good actors, many of them better than

State Police Score Home-made License

CHICAGO (AP) — Fabricating a set of license plates because "the show must go on" put Carl Griggs, 45, a musician, in a jail cell.

Griggs, was seized in his automobile in the parking lot at He was polishing a saxophone, one of four he had in the car. The 1963 license plates on Griggs' 1961 automobile had been painted on orchid purple, similar to Illinois' 1964 plates. The "Land of Lincoln" legend had been cut off the bottom of the plate and affixed to the top with tape to conform to the new plates.

"I had a job Saturday night, the first one in quite a few months," Griggs said. "I needed the car. I didn't have any 1964 plates, so I did the next best thing — I made my own."

I who haven't had my breaks. They don't work enough." Carrying the burden of the hour show just doesn't give him enough time right now . . . and it isn't just the money he's liking. "It gives me a chance to develop character way beyond what I could do with Captain Bambridge in last year's 'The Lieutenant,' for example. Furthermore we ourselves have fun making UNCLE."

And, oh yes, while he's modest about other chaps being "better actors" it was no less an expert than Lee J. Cobb who describes Robert Vaughn as "the best."

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

All rights reserved. R. T. Hollman & Co., Inc., New York.

You Can Turn On "The Sunshine"

The family room looks golden-warm of a winter afternoon during the couple of hours the sun smiles by . . . but thanks to electrical heating it's still going to feel that way when the sun itself has headed west and over the horizon.

For it's a property of modern electric complete-home-heating systems to provide sunshine-warmth day and night on the instant. Fast as the sun toasting things up when clouds brush away. Only with electric heating systems, there's no whim.

Says the wife of a high-salaried executive who's lived in seven different houses in ten years—from New England to Texas—"I'd love to stay here forever. But we're really well-paid gypsies who must go where the job is. But I can tell you I not only know what I want in a home now, I insist on the important things first.

"And to me, the most important feature is an electric heating system. It is the most unwhimsical method ever devised. Snap it on and that's it . . . your thermostat gives you the exact temperature you want in the room where you happen to be.

"On the other hand when the children are away on a skiing weekend, we turn the thermostats way down in their wing . . . not to where anything would freeze, need I add, but much lower than areas in use. The heat's on its way back up, of course, the instant you decide you'd prefer 72 degrees.

"I've found that, whatever the climate, we can be sure of comfort if the heating system is electric.

We're living in the north now, but I assure you, you can be pretty miserable in a warm climate on a cold morning . . . those inevitable cold mornings which sunshine states' Chambers of Commerce forget to mention.

"Our luck, it seems to me, has been phenomenal, too. In our several electrically heated houses we haven't had to fuss around hollering for and waiting for repairmen. We've just never needed one yet. This, however, I've been told is the pretty typical experience of 'electrical' home owners.

"When you think about it, a life like mine makes pretty strenuous demands. Everything must work, and work efficiently. We can't spend a year getting used to the foibles of a badly built house. More likely than not, I'll have to entertain 12 pretty important people at dinner a week after we move in.

"Then there's the other thing. Whether we like it or not, we've become 'real estate experts' of sorts. After all with the exception of one lease, we buy—and sell—the houses we live in.

"The houses with electric heating systems, we've found, are also very good houses. Very well constructed and usually well designed. Even without my tears of sorrow at parting with a home I've just learned to love, a sensitive buyer's heart is going to melt . . . the happiness he's assuring is, after all, his own." And with electric heating, comfort, it seems, is what he's bound to get . . . and that adds up to quite a lot of happiness."

QUESTION BOX

Q. My neighbor says she thinks wallpaper might peel if I use it around my electric wall heaters. Is this true? (By the way, she doesn't have either wallpaper or electric heating.)

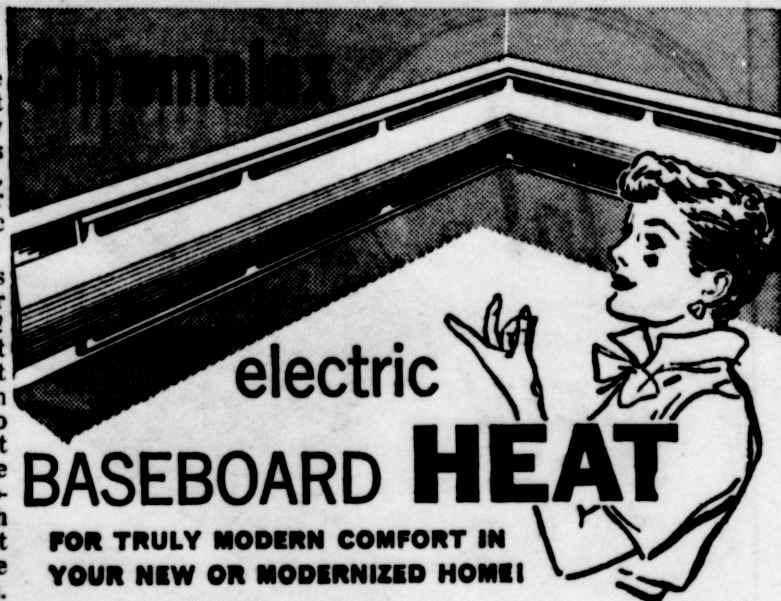

A. Well what then makes her so positive with her negative information! Need we remind you just to go over and touch that nice wall flow heater in the room you want to paper. Remember what you were told? All the electrical heating equipment you might touch heats the room without in itself getting more than pleasantly warm. "Freedom of decoration" is one of the hymns of praise frequently sung about electric heating. Naturally, you'd make sure the paper was properly applied . . . but that has nothing to do with your fine heating system, that's somebody else's bailiwick.

Q. Does having electric heat in a home mean you have to go easy on the use of other electric appliances?

A. Heavens, no! Quite the opposite. With the heavy housepower wiring that goes in when your heating system does, together with the extra circuits recommended, there'll never be "shrunk television screens" or any other sign of electricity starvation.

Q. My cousin and his wife say they believe electricity may be a less expensive way to heat a house; they're very satisfied with it. I've always thought it was more expensive. Which is it?

A. Electricity for heating as of this minute in most areas is considered excellent value. And there is strong reason for the belief that rates, which have already decreased in many communities, may go still lower as the years go by. Other saving factors which probably hadn't occurred to you are: a) electricity as fuel is 100% useable in the rooms for which it is intended; b) you can adjust the temperature downward immediately if a room feels too warm because there are more people in it, say, than when the thermostat was set, or if you're leaving a room. Then too, you can pretty well shrug off the possibility of any maintenance costs whatever.

"STOP" . . . before you choose a heating system for your home. Take a look at trim, attractive, economical CHROMALOX Electric Baseboards. They are the clean, odorless modern comfort heating units, for new and modernized homes.
